

Celebration of Life

Wednesday, June 9, 2010

The Kimmel Cancer Center at Jefferson is proud to join communities across the United States in celebrating National Cancer Survivors Day. This Celebration of Life honors and celebrates the lives of all cancer survivors and the people that care about them. We hope the art and poetry you see and the words of the survivors you hear serve as an inspiration to each of you.

4:00 PM Opening Reception and Health Fair

Visit our interactive Health Fair in Rooms 105 and 107, featuring the staff from the Jefferson-Myrna Brind Center of Integrative Medicine, genetic counselors, representatives from community organizations serving people with cancer and their families, our pharmaceutical partners and many other experts who help support your health. Browse our exhibit of art and poetry contributed by cancer survivors in the lobby and enjoy the food. Music provided by (get name from Katie)

5:00 PM Proceed to the Mandeville Conference Hall

- Concert by Ellipsis
with Matt Murphy, Vale Jokisch, and Joel Price
- Slide Show prepared by Mildred Harden
- Introduction and Welcome
Richard G. Pestell, M.D., PhD
Director, Kimmel Cancer Center at Jefferson
- “Coping with Cancer – A Little Laughter Goes a Long Way”
Richard Wender, MD
Alumni Professor, and Chairman, Family and Community Medicine; Past President, American Cancer Society
- “ Personal Stories of Survivorship”
Jack Marchiano, Prostate Cancer Survivor
Karen Cooper, Breast Cancer Survivor